

FRIDAY'S CEREMONIES.

The Work of the Hangman Goes Bravely On.
EASTMAN, Ga., Jan. 4.—Jim Crummidge, colored, was hanged in the jail yard at 1 P. M. Friday. The hanging was public. Six thousand persons were present.
BATON ROUGE, La., Jan. 4.—Valmout

The gallows was located in the jail yard, attached to the back of the jail, so he could walk out of the second story onto it. It had eight feet drop. Only a few persons were admitted in the yard. Rector was baptised Wednesday, and said he was ready and willing to die.

Rector was a heavy set negro, about five feet six inches high, weight about 180 pounds, and is thirty-three years old.

The crime for which Rector has paid the death penalty was the murder of Duncan Williams, colored, in this city on the 15th of December, 1882. When interviewed by a correspondent regarding the crime he said:

"I don't hardly know how I killed Duncan. I was in liquor and they say I cut him but I don't know what I did."

him, but I don't know whether I did or not. I don't have any recollection of it. I am sorry I committed the crime, and do not think I was given justice in the courts, as I don't think all the witnesses were present when the deed was committed. I do not remember seeing but one.

Ohio's Choice of a Senator Not Safe to Bet On.
COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 4.—Every candidate is sure of the Senatorship from his own standpoint. The Payne men are sure, and the Pendleton men are sure, and even Gen-

There is no doubt, from a survey of the field, that the Payne crowd is strong, and that they are hustlers. The best informed and most impartial observers, however, insist that they can not elect Payne, and that the nearest they can come to accomplishing their purpose will be the defeat of Pendleton. Long after midnight Thurman and McLean were in secret consultation, which puts another mysterious air upon the situation.

Pendleton's friends claim over forty votes sure, and forty-two will elect. There are a number of wabby members, however, who can not be counted on with any certainty until they come to the caucus, and there will be any amount of hard work done, and any number of changes before the caucus.

that time arrives. So far there is nothing certain enough to bet on.

Suicide of a Well Known Cincinnati.
CINCINNATI, Jan. 4.—Quite early Friday morning a man called at the Central Police Station and inquired if the police had any knowledge of the whereabouts of Dr. D. G. Corliss, living at No. 601 Colerain avenue, and of the firm of Marsh & Corliss, truss manufacturers, at No. 3 West Fourth street. The police knew nothing of him, and he was accordingly entered on the books as missing. His description was taken and the efforts were given instant placed, and the officers were given instructions to be on the lookout for him. It was said by the inquirer that he had been drinking heavily, and that it was feared that he had wandered away in a semi-delirious condition. About 10:30 o'clock the police were informed from the Cumminsville Station that they need look no longer for Dr. Corliss, as his body had been found in a cistern in the rear of his residence, and that he had committed suicide. The awful discovery was made by a letter carrier. As soon as possible the body was removed from the cistern and Coroner Muscroft was summoned.

AN ABSCONDING BANK CASHIER.

HOPKINSVILLE, Ky., Jan. 4.—Tuesday morning James D. Wallace, for nineteen years cashier of the Hopkinsville National Bank, left, saying he was going to Nashville on business for the Cumberland Presbyterian Church, of which he is a member. He bought a ticket at Guthrie, and it is supposed he has gone to Mexico. When the directors examined the accounts they found that Wallace had taken $50,000 of the bank's reserve fund either in cash or had lost the amount by speculating in Chicago bucket shops, and fled when he could not make it good. A reward of $5,000 for his capture and twenty per cent. of the funds found on him is offered by the bank.

A MURDERER SURRENDERS.

The Cold Weather Drives Him From His Hiding Place.

OTTUMWA, Jan. 4.—There has been great excitement over the murder of turnkey Manning by the burglar Williams. The search has continued vigorously, and parties are still out after him. Thursday evening the murderer walked into the office of the Chief of Police and gave himself up. He has been concealed in a barn, deep in the hay, near the jail. The police officers had searched the hay and were right over him once. Both of his feet are frozen, and the severe cold was too much for him. All is quiet and few people are aware of the fact that Williams is in jail. The officers are keeping it as quiet as possible for fear of lynching.

FOREIGN NEWS

Cairo, Jan. 4.—Camille Barre, French Consul General, has asserted the Khedive that France is willing to act against El Mahdi if England decides not to.

Rome, Jan. 4.—A letter has been received by Monsignor Boccali, Private Secretary to the Pope, Leo, B. reporting to come from a Fenian organization in America. The writer states that if the Holy See continues to instruct the Catholic clergy in Great Britain to discourage the aggressive policy of the National League, and otherwise indirectly aid and countenance England in oppressing the Irish people, the priests of America will promptly and emphatically signify their disapproval. The letter says that the Fenians in America are determined to sustain the cause of Ireland against the tyranny of England, and if the Pope renders further support, the National League will send a deputation to Rome who will, if necessary, demand that their views be heard.

Rome, Jan. 3.—Mr. Errington, the English representative at the Vatican, has submitted to the Pope additional proposals for reversing the Irish clergy from participating in political affairs.

Cairo, Jan. 4.—Pursuing the policy recommended by the Khedive, the English officials in Egypt have signified their willingness to surrender a proportion of their salaries corresponding with the reduction suggested by the Khedive in the incomes of Egyptian officials.

London, Jan. 4.—The queen has published another volume of leaves from her diary, kept during her sojourn in the highlands, covering the period from 1862 to 1882.

Berlin, Jan. 4.—The Salvation Army has invaded Germany and is holding meetings in various parts of the Empire. Thus far the salvationists have met no opposition, neither have they received much encouragement. Dr. Stoecker has been using his influence to persuade them from coming to Germany, but obviously without success.

London, Jan. 4.—The Times in review the theatrical events of the past year, says that Mary Anderson's personal charms, and not her talents, have made her attractive, and characterizes the performance of Lota and Minnie Palmer as buffonery.

Dublin, Jan. 4.—It is reported that the Nationalists intend holding two large meetings next week at places not yet announced. The Orangemen are already arranging for counter meetings, and Government proclamation of both is expected.

Financial.

New York, Jan. 4.—Money on call loaned at from 2½ to 3 per cent. The stock market was less active, but displayed more strength than on any previous day of the week. There were several declines during the day, the result of bear raids on certain leading stocks, but they were almost all subsequently recovered under what the bears called a process of bidding up by bulls and interested parties. Conservative brokers, on the other hand, attributed the strength of the market to the growing belief among speculators that Burlington & Quincy will join the Union Pacific pool. The advance for the day ranged from 4 to 4 per cent, the latter in Oregon Improvement. The specialties nearly all closed higher. There was a dearth of news from the street and the changes were mainly the result of trading.

Shall We Let the Child Die?

A hard-hearted political economist, looking at a pale and puny child feebly gasping as it lies upon a pillow, says that the child might as well die. It is so weak and poor that its life will never be worth much anyhow. There are already a good many people in the world who are of not much account anyhow. And what's the use of adding to their number another weakling, who has but slender chance of ever amounting to anything?
